New All in Gum Facilities

...and much more!

A year after its first public appearance, at Interpack, All in Gum has become more and more popular. So much that we have had to think about new facilities to produce it, because a demand of 2000 Tm per year is much more than what our current factories could assume.

Therefore, since the end of May we are producing All in Gum in these new facilities. 315 m² separated of any of our existing factories and entirely dedicated to the production of this directly compressible chewing gum that is making the traditional gum industry turn its eyes to compressed chewing gum products.

The advantages of this new product were already quite a lot (as we have been informing in previous issues: easiness to work with any kind of active principles, extraordinary flavour release, adaptability to any kind of packaging, possibility of different product shapes, versatile formulations...) but now there is an additional one, the safety in the supply that we had always guaranteed is strengthened by these new installations, that will work apart from our current three factories.

So, if you still belong to that minority that has not thought yet about extending its current product range to compressed products All in Gum can help you. And the new facilities for its production will make things even easier. If you want more information of these new facilities just look at the article next page. And, above all, try the samples: no other compressed gum you have tried before feels as much as a chewing gum...

Hoping these new All in

Gum facilities will fulfil the interest for which they have been created there is just one last thing to say in Cafosa's name: to wish a happy summer and the most enjoyable holidays to these readers for which the summer and the holiday season are just starting. On our side, and as we have been doing these last years, we are not closing at all during the summer season, so we can offer all our customers in any of the hemispheres the best service ever the whole year through.

New All in Gum Facilities

During last days of May we started the production of All in Gum in our new facilities entirely dedicated to this product.

Here you can see some pictures: in a surface of 315 square metres, at a few kilometres of our currently existing factory in Spain, all this new equipment will be used exclusively to produce All in Gum, in a first step at a capacity of 2000 Mt per year but this amount could be revised and increased if the interest in the product keeps as strong as by now it is.

All types of All in Gum available (the bubble gum version, All in Gum SF for sugarfree chewing products and All in Gum SF+, same as All in Gum SF but with an active principle already added) will be manufactured in this new plant.

Visiting All Candy Expo

If there is a Confectionery Exhibition outside Europe and its ISM that attracts the eyes of all the industry in the whole world that is All Candy Expo. And so we could not fail to visit it, as we have been doing in the last years.

For those of our readers who were not in Chicago last May, here are some hints of what was new and worthy to see:

- Once again compressed products were everywhere. Most of them were breath freshener or functional and another point they all had in common was their packaging, in most cases in metal tins.

- Powder products, specially for children, in novelty toy packaging and super-sour flavours.
- Strips. They are not exactly a confectionery product, but since most confectionery manufacturers are already producing Oral Care gums, they are adding this to their existing brands.

Finally, just let us remind you that whether you are interested in the first or the second item we have the ideal product for you: All in Gum. For the third, just let us a few more time...
